The 3 Levels to Smart as Standard

Consumers are starting to expect Smart technology throughout their homes, from TVs to heating systems, and their windows and doors are no exception. In the coming years, Smart windows and doors will be the norm and most (if not all) sales will include a smart solution of one kind or another.

To help you on your journey to becoming a Smart Installer, here are some ideas on how YOU could use Kubu Smart Sensor technology to boost your sales.

	Sales Concept	What our customers say:
Registered Installer	Level 1 Works with Kubu You sell windows and doors that “Work with Kubu” and leave all sensor supply to us.	“To begin with we’re going to market our products as working with Kubu as a differentiator for our business, and then look at offering it as standard in the future.” Rezena Welbourn Pilgrim Windows & Doors
Pro Installer	Level 2 Quote with Kubu You add Kubu sensors to your quotes as an upsell or added extra, then supply the sensors and benefit from additional profit too.	“We’re going to use Kubu as a deal closer, by adding the sensors in to our quotes. If the customer doesn’t pick it up at the first try, we plan to upsell at handover too.” Laura Molineux Hayley Windows
	Level 3 Comes with Kubu You include Kubu sensors in the price of your windows and doors, creating a product that is Smart as Standard , cementing your business as a forward thinking Smart Installer, and helping you to convert more quotes to sales .	“We want to be known for being forward thinking as a Smart Installer. We will be including Kubu sensors AND consumer activation with every product we sell - all included in the price.” Daniel Shemmings Homestyle
